NEWS OF THE DAY

MONTEVIDEO

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1891.

Saints Rosa of Viterbo, Rosalia and Candida. French Republic proclaimed, 1870. 247 days past, 118 to the end of the year.

Customs Receipts.

The following are the Custom House receipts for the month of August, 1891.—

Importation,	$ 528,878.99
Exportation,	34,890.83
Departments, estimate,	35,000.00
Total	$ 598,769.82
Same month, 1890,	$ 557,188.16

These receipts are nearly $100,000 less than those of July, and are the lowest of any month this year, and, with the exception of 1890, considerably lower than those of the same month in any of the last six years.

British Bank of South America.

An extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders in the British Bank of South America, Limited, was held on Thursday, August 6, at the offices, Moorgate-street, under the presidency of Mr. Charles Carrington, to consider the confirmation as special resolutions of the resolutions passed at the extraordinary general meeting on the 21st ultimo. They were as follows:—That, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the existing articles of association of the company, the sum of £150,000 be transferred to the profit and loss account from the reserved fund account, which now amounts to £225,000, and which, by the recent sale of the company's business in Brazil, is now free from any liability to make good any depreciation of the capital employed there, and that the directors be, and they are hereby, authorised to distribute the said sum of £150,000 by way of bonus or dividend amongst the shareholders whose names shall be on the register of members of the company on the 8th of August, 1891, that such bonus be payable on the 19th of August, 1891, and the transfer books be closed from the 8th to the 21st. of August, both inclusive. That, notwithstanding the resolution passed at the extraordinary general meeting on the 19th February, 1891, authorising the appropriation and payment by the directors out of the reserve fund of such an amount, not exceeding £20,000, as the directors may think proper, by way of bonus or compensation to deserving members of the bank's staff in Brazil, the directors be authorised and required to charge the said sum of £20,000, or so much thereof as they may expend for the purpose, as part of the expenses of sale of the bank's business in Brazil, and pay the same out of purchase-money received from the Banco de Credito Universal, and not, as at present authorised, out of the reserve fund. That Article 84 of the existing articles of association of the company be rescinded, and that there be substituted therefore the following article: «The number of directors shall not be more than nine nor fewer than five.»

The confirmation of the resolution was unanimously agreed to.

Dr. Ellauri's Mission.

The Money Market Review of August 8 gives the following particulars of Dr. Ellauri's proposals, as they were known in London at that date.—

Some further particulars are leaking out respecting a matter to which we referred in our impression of the 25th ult., namely, the proposals which are being elaborated for the reconstruction of the Debt of Uruguay. Negotiations with this view are proceeding actively between Dr. Ellauri, the Envoy of the Uruguayan Government in London, and the Council of Foreign Bondholders. It is now said that the rate of interest to be borne by the new «Unified» Stock is 3 ½ per cent. per annum. Into this «Unified» form it is proposed to convert not only the Five per Cents. and the Six per Cents. at present known in the market, but likewise the £2,000,000 of unissued Six per Cents. which constitute one of the principal assets of the Baring estate. We believe the intention is that each existing Five per Cent. Bond shall receive £100 of the new Three-and-a-Half per Cent. Stock, and that a certain additional amount of Stock will be assigned to the Six per Cents. of 1888, by reason of the higher rate of interest hitherto borne by them. It is confidently maintained in quarters likely to be well-informed that the proposed 3 ½ per cent. is a rate of interest which Uruguay can actually and permanently pay; and the proposal further is to give to the Bondholders as compensation for the proposed diminution of interest, such special Securities as shall add materially to the safety of their dividends. With this view, it is proposed, we believe, to arrange a special Receivership for the revenues, or at least for such portion of them as shall amply cover the service of the reconstructed Debt.

Upon this view, it will be quite reasonable to regard the present depreciation as excessive, for a Three-and-a-Half per Cent. Stock at, say, 35, shows nearly 10 ½ per cent. per annum; this rate of return, moreover, being specially secured.

—According to semi-official information in yesterday afternoon's Razon, Government has received further telegrams from Dr. Ellauri confirming the definite arrangement of the reduction, which does include the railway guarantees The amortization of ½ per cent annual will not commence be for two years, and if Government has sufficient funds before that time, it may commence, but is not obliged to until the stipulated term, amortization by purchase. The arrangement is to commence from February 1, 1892, not from January 1, and the first payment of interests will be made on May 1. The new debt will be call «Uruguayan Consolidateds.» For the seven months from July 1891 to February 1892, holders will receive bonds of the new debt in payment of their interests. The Razon calculates that this will be a relief to the National Budget of 2 1|2 million dollars yearly.

The above does not seem to us entirely clear, but doubtless will be explained in time. We have noticed that nothing has yet been said about the drawings which should take place this and the coming quarter.

The United River Plate Telephone Company, Limited.

The following is from the Report of the Directors of this Company, presented at the general meeting on Friday, Aug. 7: —

«The directors beg to submit to the shareholders the balance-sheet and profit and loss account, showing the result of the comany's operations during the year ending March 31 last. That result, after paying all working expenses abroad, debenture interest, London and other charges, is a profit of £38,480. 14s. 14., from which is to be deduced the sum of £36,049. 0s. 8d. for loss on exchange, leaving a net profit of £2,431. 13s. 8d., to be increased by the balance of £2,373. 16s: 6d. brought forward from the previous year, to £4,805, 10s. 2d. Out of this the directors recommend that £768. 7s. 8d. be applied in writing off one-half of the taxes suspense account, and £2,000 be written off for bad and doubtful debts in the River Plate, and the balance of £2,037. 2s. 6d. be carried forward to the credit of profit and loss account for the current year. As shown in the balance-sheet, the capital expenditure during the year amounted to £3,096 10s. 10d., as against £12,772. 8s. in the previous twelve months. It will be observed from the profit and loss account that, notwithstanding the revolution in July, 1890, and the continued crisis in the River Plate, which has practically stopped the company's sales' business, the gross receipts for the year are £106,259. 19s. 8d., as compared with £108,612 2s. 7d. in the year before. The loss on exchange, £36,049. 0s. 8d., represents nearly 12 ½ per cent. on the company's paid-up share capital. The working expenses in the River Plate amount to £56,941. 1s. 9d., against £63,497. 15s. 5d., during the previous year, and the London expenses to £2,732. 14. 9d., against £3,257. 15s. 6d. Since the close of the year the London expenses have been still further reduced by about one-third.»

Banquet to the British Minister.

The banquet given by representative British residents to H. B. Minister, Ernest Satow. Esq. C. M. G. as a mark of appreciation and esteem, on the occasion of his leaving for Europe, took place in the Japanese saloon of the Uruguay Club on Wednesday evening. The chair was taken by Mr. Towers, with Mr. Satow on his right hand, Mr. Grenfell, temporary Consul General, on the left hand, Mr. Harvey facing, and Messrs. Leared and Lafone at the two ends of the table. The other gentlemen present were Messrs. Horacio Garcia Lagos (guest), Thurburn, Dr. Lawrie, P. Towers, Lane, Perry, R. Cooper, Grassie, J. Henderson, Wilson, Ramsay, Harley, Byrne, Galwey, Heriot, Oldham, E. Cooper, F. Henderson, Dr. Greene, Lamond, Morton, J. Towers, Meikle, Marshall, Hore, Vignoles, Wingate, Elliot, Ingouville and Theobald. The entire arrangements were most complete and satisfactory and a superb repast was furnished by the cuisine of the Club. The press not having been invited, we regret not being able to give any account of the speeches made, but we understand that the chairman proposed the Queen, the President of the Republic and the guest of the evening, whilst Mr. Lamond duly honoured the ladies, all of which were most heartily received and responded to in due form. The proceedings past off with the greatest harmony and satisfaction, and everyone acknowledged that the banquet was a brilliant success.

SUNDRIES.

—It is not at all surprising that the affair of the «Espiégle» has caused indignation and disgust amongst the many Chilian residents and emigrants in the River Plate. In yesterday's Siglo we find translated the remarks of the B. A. Standard and ourselves on the point, which show, we are pleased to say, that the conduct of the «Espiégle» has met with no sympathy among the English here, but decidedly the reverse. The Siglo also contains some verses written by the distinguished Chilian emigré Don Guillermo Matta, forcibly reproaching England for her greedy conduct in this and other matters. Sr. Matta's reproaches are more violent than just for he assumes as a rule what is only an exceptional case, and one which will probably meet with its merited reprimand.

—A petition, extensively signed by business men, has been presented to the Minister of Finance, protesting against the arbitrary refusal of the Direction General of Taxes to exchange revenue stamps of the former term, for obviously insufficient reasons, thereby imposing a vexatious and often serious loss on many persons. This is another of the difficulties which has arisen from the new and highly objectionable stamp law.

—There was no sitting in either of the Chambers again on Wednesday.

—Letters of citizenship have been granted to Sres. Victorio Galli, Italian, and Gabriel Desrameaux, Frenchman.

—It is telegraphed from Kiel (Baltic Sea) that the Chilian cruiser «Presidente Pinto» left that port on Tuesday with unknown destination.

—The invitation to tea extended to English-speaking servants by Mrs. Maitland Heriot, is for Monday, September 14, and not for Monday next as erroneously stated in our issue of yesterday.

—The Cleary English Operetta Company are expected to arrive from Buenos Aires this morning, and will appear at Solis Theatre tomorrow evening in Sullivan's charming operetta «Patience.» Those who have not secured their seats for the short season of five nights should lose no further time in doing so.

—We hear that the Maggi Italian Dramatic Company, considerably reinforced, will appear at the Politeama for a short season commencing on the 15th instant.

—Wife (at the «Cinderella»): «Edward, dear, you have improved in dancing since we were married. Formerly you used to step on my dresses.» Husband: «Well, at that time I was not obliged to buy them.»

—A specially interesting programme is offered at the Cibils Theatre this evening, consisting in the production of the local and political satire, by the young Oriental author Mr. E. L. Gordon, entitled «El Gato Electoral,» a slang phrase which we will not attempt to translate. This piece has recently been played in Buenos Aires with great success, securing a run of over 40 nights. It will be preceded by «La Chiclanera» and «El Chaleco Blanco,» the second of which is very amusing.

—Our French contemporary L'Union Française, only recently established on the ruins of the Courrier Français, has already had to bow to the crisis which afflicts us all, and now appears in a very diminished form. Considering the numbers and importance of the French colony, it seems strange that it should not be able to support a journal in its own language. Perhaps, the resident French, like some of the English we could name, grudge any assistance to a paper in their own language. They expect the paper to represent and support their interests, and would be very angry if it pursued an opposite policy, but at the same time they overlook the just claims of the paper for their assistance and support in return. This is regrettable, but it is unfortunately true. We call attention to this on the part of the many readers who do not assist us by subscription or advertisement, but who well might if they choose.

—Yesterday there were registered three new cases of small-pox and one of diptheria.

—Owing to the late arrival of the R. M. S. «Magdalena» from B. Aires, her sailing is delayed until this morning. The «John Elder» left Rio Janeiro on Wednesday afternoon and is expected here on Sunday morning.

BUENOS AIRES

—A decree has been issued authorizing the Central Land Office to make an investigation into all the concessions of lands made, in respect of alleged possessory rights under the law of 1884.

—The National Board of Health has asked the Minister of the Interior to make vaccination obligatory upon every person and also to require every one to be re-vaccinated every six years.

—Dr. Cárlos Rojo has been apointed Argentine Consul in Rio Janeiro, in place of Dr. Berdier, who resigned. Mr. J. B. Crosbie will go with Dr. Rojo as his secretary.

—All the Gas Companies have joined in an intimation to the Intendant that they do not recognize the claim of the Municipality to intervence in fixing their tariffs, and unless the ordinance to that effect be withdrawn they will suspend the public lighting.

—Two more of the employés of the London Bank have been arrested in connection with the bank-note robbery.

—Sr. Eugenio Mattaldi, the saddler of Calle Florida, has been robbed by his confidential clerk Angel Ginocchio, who had been with him for four years, of a sum not less than $25,000. Last Saturday, after receiving various sums of money, he disappeared. It appears that he has also defrauded several merchants, for he recently opened a grocery store in Calle Callao, and bought goods on credit to stock it, to a considerable amount, the merchants trusting him on the strength of his position in Mattaldi's house. These goods he has been selling at low prices. It is supposed that he went to Montevideo.

—The Irish Orphanages received $537.80 each, as their share of the proceeds of the benefit performance given by the Cleary Company at the Opera House on Saturday night.

—The new warship, the 25 de Mayo, is anchored in the Outer Roads, having arrived from Europe a few days ago, and is being cleaned and painted preparatory to coming into port. She is a most formidable craft, beside which the Admiral Brown is dwarfed in appearance. Excursion boats went out on Sunday loaded with passengers to see her and welcome her arrival.

—The Aguila is anchored in the Outer Roads with a Chilian guard and crew aboard, where she will probably remain until she receive orders from the new Government of Chile. Should the new Government of Chile refuse to recognize the purchase of this steamer some nice questions will arise in reference to the responsabilities incurred by the various persons who have taken part in the transaction. The purchase money of £130,000 was paid, on Saturday morning we believe, by drafts of the Bank of London on Messrs. Rothschild, accepted telegraphically by them and payable at the London house of the said bank. The silver bars or ingots, on account of which the bills were given, are now on their way to England in the Moselle. The balance of the price of the silver £14,000 was drawn out of the London Bank on Saturday by Sr. Vidal, and he at once paid £10,000 to a commercial house here, for commission, brokerage, telegrams &c., in relation to the silver and purchase of the steamer. The documents transferring the steamer were executed on Saturday, in pursuance of a telegram authorizing the sale received from the Judge in Genoa acting in the matter of the liquidation of the Lavarello Company. It appears that the upset price fixed for the sale was far less than the sum actually received.—B. A. Herald.

Burning of the San Martin Theatre

Telegrams received yesterday relate that the San Martin Theatre, one of the largest in the city, took fire during the performance on Wednesday evening, about 9 p.m. and was completely destroyed. The Theatre was occupied at the time by the Tomba Italian Opereta Company, well known here, and there was a large audience. The fire originated in the scenery and spread very quickly. Owing to deficient means of exit from the stage the artists were in great danger, and had much difficulty in escaping, without time to change their costumes. One of them, Sr. Spinelli, was burnt to death, the body being found in the morning. His wife, the favourite prima donna, received some severe burns. A boy 14 years was also burnt to death, and several of the firemen and soldiers were injured. The fire extended to the neighbouring properties, and did great damage to several of them. The damages to the theatre, which is entirely destroyed, are estimated at 600,000. The impresario Tomba lost all his valuable and beautiful scenery and costumes, the finest that have seen here, and which were valued at $200,000 francs. Benefits will be arranged in all the theatres for the victims. The fire caused an enormous sensation throughout the city. Sr. Ciacchi has already offered the use of the Politeama for a benefit.

«ELECTROCUTION.«

About some of the reports of this deed of horror there is a sound of actual exultation as if some wonderful discovery had been made, or some great triumph of human skill had been performed. But the reports vary in details. One set of witnesses say that the proceeding was «an unqualified success;» another, and medically skilled witness, declares that it was the Kemmler business over again, that the shocks in each case had to be repeated, and that, if he were not bound to silence, he could make out of the transaction a thrilling story. We wait for further statements before we venture to comment on the «unqualified success» of this scientific experiment. Meantime one or two questions will force their way. Why, if everything was so certain, was there so much mystery? Why were all reporters excluded from the ceremony? Why is Dr. Daniels, who was present, unable to describe in the fullest manner all that he witnessed? Why is there such withering detail about the ghastly apparatus of death and the action of the aparatus? If the experiment had referred to testing a cable or a new telephone, the whole of the record would have been centred in the results. Why not in this experiment?» Next week we hope we shall know more, and although we are not at this moment profoundly satisfied with all that has been told, one fact does look better than in the Kemmler case—namely, that this time no member of the body medical did himself the pleasure of acting the executioner. So far so good.—Lancet.

CHINESE VARNISH.

The British Consul at Haukow, in a recent report, mentions that the varnish exported from that port is the gum of the Rhus vernicifera. On this tree, before daylight, incisions are made; the gum that runs out is collected in the dark and strained through a cotton-cloth bag, leaving behind a large amount of dirt and refuse. This operation can only be performed in the dark, as light spoils the gum and causes it to cake with all the dirt in it. It cannot be strained in wet weather, as moisture causes it to solidify. When the Chinese use the varnish they rub it on with a sort of mop made of soft wast silk. It should also be used in wet weather, as, if the atmosphere is dry when it is rubbed on, it will always be sticky. As used by the Chinese it takes about a month to dry. During the time it is drying it is poisonous to the eyes. It is possible that the celebrated Cremona varnish may have had in it some of this gum as one of its ingredients. It might be worth the while of our musical instrument makers to make experiments with this gum with the view to producing a varnish that would give a mellow instead of a «glassy» sound.—Industries.

RABIES AND THE MUZZLE.

Mr. Arthur Nicols has reprinted from the Transactions of the Middlesex Natural History Society a paper «On Rabies; its Natural History and the Means of Extinguishing it,» which he read before that body. The paper is an apparently irresistible argument for the need of the universal application of the muzzle to stamp out rabies, and corroborates everything that all the soundest authorities upon the subject have been saying for years. It seems now hopeless to expect that the one really effectual remedy will be adopted until another outbreak of the disease occurs, but when that takes place, with the concomitant sufferings and deaths of human beings, the Board of Agriculture will at least not be able to plead that its action has been delayed through ignorance of the policy recommended by those best entitled to advise. Mr. Nicol's paper is illustrated by a reproduction of a vigorous study of a rabid dog on the march, made by the distinguished animal painter, Mr. John T. Nettleship.—British Medical Journal.

RAILWAY ELECTRIC LIGHTING PLANT.

At the Government dockyard at Port Adelaide there is in course of construction a travelling electric light plant for use on the railways. It consists of an ordinary locomotive engine, a truck upon which is fitted a portable engine and the dynamo, and the well-stripper, which is used for clearing the railways lines of undergrowth. The plant, when completed, will be used to enable the navvies to carry on their work as much as possible at night, when their operations will be less hampered by the train traffic than during the day. Telegraph poles, upon which the wires are carried and the lamps hung, will be erected at each halting place where their services are required.—Electrician.

THE ANNEXATION OF ENGLAND.

ILLUSTRATED AMERICAN.

Schemes that seemed once to be the creation of harebrained lunacy are rapidly passing into the the domain of practical politics. Supposing the plan of Imperial Federation should fail to bind England to her colonies; supposing that Australia should proclaim her independence, and Canada should vote for annexation to the United States, and the Cape Colonists should follow the lead of the study Boers, and the two hundred million natives of Hindostan should drive out the handful of Englishmen who govern them—what would be left of the British Empire? She would have a few possessions scattered here and there over the globe, like those of Portugal; and apart from them would be merely a bit of an island in the ocean. Her destiny would naturally draw her to the United States, which would be large enough and strong enough to take her under its eagle's wing. The present generation may not live to see it; but the course of history shows that countries so vast as Australia, India, Canada, and South Africa cannot be ruled by a country small in size, and hopelessly weakened by monarchical and aristocratic traditions. In the end, though the incredulous may smile, England must be either American or perish.

—The B. A. Standard has again been indulging in some entirely incorrect assertions about this place. In its edition of Wednesday it says that National Bank shares were sold on the Bolsa here on Tuesday at 6 and 7. As it happens there were no operations on the Bolsa here on that day, and the unofficial quotation of National Bank shares was 12 to 13. The Standard ought really to be more careful, as such gross misstatements only do mischief.

—Messrs. Baring Brothers and Co have announced the numbers of 282 bonds, amounting to £50,700, of the Oriental Republic of Urugnay Six per Cent. Loan 1888 for £4,255,-400, which have been drawn for redemption at par on and after Sept. 1.

—The «Montevideo» brought yesterday from N. Palmira $178 to E. Julia, $150 to C. Croveto, $333 to J. Suarez, from Fray Bentos $17 to C. Beckar, $519 to C. Kock, from Salto $550 to Martinez, $688 to Chiarino. Total $2439.

Scott's Emulsion

The superiority of Scott's Emulsion to other preparations of cod liver oil has long been recognised by the public.

Montevideo, Aug. 22, 1891.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne,

I frequently prescribe for my patients the Emulsion prepared by you and which is already well known to the public, finding it give most satisfactory results, especially in anemic states and affections of the respiratory organs, for which I consider it a good tonic and re-constituent.

CUTTER "NEMO"

To be Sold.—This splendid cutter yacht belonging to the «Yacht Club Argentino,» built at «The Boca» Buenos Aires, by Parodi, from an English Model.

The Hull and frame are of hardwood of the Country, and the Cabin of solid mahogany, she is copper sheeted to above the water line, completely equipped, and has new mast, anchors and chains, rigging and running gear in first class order. Two sets of sails, one of which is by the celebrated English Sailmaker Lapthorn, and has never been used—Cast lead ballast, &c., &c.

She is a first class sea boat, as was proved on her cruise to Puerto Deseado on the Southern coast, and she is specially adapted for Pilot Service.

Her dimensions are: Length 45 feet; Beam 14 feet—Draught 8 feet; which is the sole reason for the yacht club disposing of her, as she draws too much water to suit them. She is inscribed in Lloyd's Register for 1891-2 under N.° 85 of letter N.

George Ogden's Will.

(A GHOST STORY.)

CHAPTER II.

On the following Saturday there was a «friendly» meeting at Mr. Holmes's offices. The children met together in order that they might arrive at a common understanding of their fathers will; or, if that were impossible, that they might at least arrive at a commonagreement, which should, in some degree, give satisfaction to them all.

Mr. Holmes opened the proceedings with a piece of information which was not without interest for his hearers:

«I have endeavoured to arrive at an approximate estimate of the value of your late father's estate. Although he kept his affairs in very great order, it has not been possible, in so short a space of time, to enter into all the details. But I should say that the gross value is over, rather than under, one hundred and fifty thousand pounds. It would seem that he had clear intentions as to the disposition of this large property, but unfortunately he has not made plain these intentions. All we can do, therefore, is to endeavour to make them plainer. Have you, on your parts, any propositions to make?»

It appeared that some of them had.

«Share and share alike,» said Jack.

«That's the fairest way,» said Jim.

«I understand,» continued Mr. Holmes, «that my position here is simply that of your common friend, and I repeat that what we have to do is to endeavour to comprehend what were your father's intentions, and, having arrived at such a comprehension, to proceed to carry them into effect.»

«Excuse me,» interrupted Jack, «but I do not see that that is the position at all.»

«What then, from your point of view, is the position?

«The position is that of a man who has died intestate.»

«How so, when there is a will?»

«My father intended to make a will, but he failed to carry his intentions into effect. You are as well aware as I am that there practically is no will.»

«Excuse me, Mr. John, but you attribute to me knowledge which I do not possess. There is a will, only it requires propounding. It is quite clear that your father intended to leave the major portion of his property to your sisters. He says that you have already had your portions, and that, from my own personal knowledge, I know to be a fact.»

Jim made a suggestion:

«Very well. You say there's a hundred and fifty thousand. Let them have a hundred thousand, and Jack and I have what's left.»

«I'm not sure that I agree to that,» said Jack.

«Let's hear what they have to say for themselves.»

Jim turned to his sisters:

«I suppose you have something to say.»

Mary had:

«I understood from a remark which papa made shortly before he overtaken by his last illness that I was to have sixty thousand pounds.»

«Sixty thousand pounds!» cried Jim. «That's good! And you, Nellie, were you to have another sixty?«

Nellie was crying, in a quiet, surreptitious sort of way.

«You know, Jim, that papa was always giving you money.»

«That's very kind of you. Thank you for the information: I daresay you kept a keen eye upon his movements in that line. But that isn't an answer to my question.»

«Papa never told me how much he was going to leave me, but I always understood that you had had your fortunes, and that we were to have ours when he was dead.»

«Did you, indeed? And pray, Miss Lizzie Ogden, what did you understand?

Lizzie slightly blushed, but her tone was firm as she replied:

«Papa told me that I should take a fortune to my husband.»

«I suppose that means that Mr. Philip Cuddon is going to have his fingers in the pie.»

«Philip Cuddon is at least an honest man.»

«That means that I am not. Thank you, my dear.»

Mr. Holmes here interposed.

«Permit me to hint that, standing, as we may almost be said to do, in the presence of the dead man whose grave has just been closed, it is our duty to lighten, and not increase, the burden which has been laid upon us.»

Rising from his chair, Jim went and leaned his back against the mantelpiece.

«I've made a proposition. I don't know what else you expect me to do.»

There was a pause. Mr. Holmes was holding the will in his hand.

He read and re-read it with an expression of countenance which became more and more perplexed.

«Most unfortunate! Most unfortunate!» He solemnly shook his head. «How you father came to make the omission I confess I cannot understand. It would almost seem that he neglected to give a second glance even at his own will, but it appears quite clear to me that he had distinctly in his mind the exact amount which he intended to bequeath to each of his daughters, and that that amount, as a whole, comprehended far the larger portion of his estate. This matter has of course not been submitted to counsel but I venture to say that counsel's opinion would be this. He would say that the matter depended upon evidence which could be brought to throw light on the testator's intentions. Beyond doubt your father intended, for reasons with which we are all acquainted, to leave his estate practically to his daughters. I do not hesitate to say that that could be proved up to the hilt, I therefore very strongly urge you to arrive at a common understanding, with that fact as a basis.»

«Mr. Holmes,» said Jack, «you know that I have one virtue: I always mean what I say. I'm quite willing to arrive at a common understanding. I'm the eldest son, but I waive that. Give me a fifth of the lot, and you may do with the rest as you please.»

«It is quite clear that your father never intended that you should have a fifth.»

«Offer me less than a fifth and I will take the case through every court in England. It's always well to know where we are, and that's where I am.»

«In that case I doubt if you would get anything at all.»

«Very well, my dear Holmes, don't get excited. I always have had a taste for long odds. So I'll go for the gloves.»
